ABSTRACT

This publication lists degrees and certificates offered by California community colleges which were approved by the Chancellor's Office as of September 1999. It is divided into two sections: An Inventory of Programs by College, and an Index of Programs by Taxonomy of Programs (TOP) code. The TOP codes allow readers to find which colleges offer particular types of programs. This report defines programs as a degree or certificate with a specific name. All approved degree programs are listed. Certificate programs requiring at least 18 semester units or 27 quarter units are included, except for some low-unit certificates listed in conjunction with a degree. Certificates requiring fewer units do not require approval from the Chancellor's Office. Projected programs that colleges intend to start are also included in this publication. Apprenticeship-only programs and inactive programs are not included. Information contained in the Inventory of Approved Programs is: college, TOP code, serial code, local title, certificate units, degree units, degree type, year approved, and year projected. Information contained in Index of Programs by TOP Code is: TOP Code, College, and local title. (RDG)

This directory was prepared under the direction of Victoria Morrow, Vice Chancellor of Educational Services and Economic Development, and Lynn Miller, Dean of Curriculum Standards and Instructional Services. The principal author was Charlie Klein, Specialist in Academic Planning. The tables were prepared by Melanie Schultz-Miller, Curriculum Analyst.

The information contained in this directory may be viewed on the World Wide Web at www.cccco.edu. The version on the Web is more complete, as it contains informative "Comments" on many programs, which space does not permit to be reproduced here.

Introduction

This publication lists degrees and certificates offered by California community colleges which were approved by the Chancellor's Office of the California Community College system, as of September 27, 1999. It is divided into two sections: An Inventory of Programs by College, and an Index of Programs by Taxonomy of Programs (T.O.P.) code, starting on page 127. The Index by T.O.P. code does not contain as much detail as the Inventory by College, but the reader may use the index to find which colleges offer particular types of programs, and then refer to the Inventory by College for details.

Community colleges are required by law to submit programs to the Chancellor's Office for approval before they are offered. An Inventory of Programs was previously published by the Chancellor's Office, in numerous editions, between 1972 and 1985. However, that inventory was based exclusively on T.O.P. codes and did not include local program titles, or show "options" or "concentrations." The present publication is the first to use the definition of a program as "a degree or a certificate with a specific name," to show local program titles, and to include separate listings for all degrees and certificates (and most options or concentrations) classified under each T.O.P. code.

This directory is the outcome of a project to revalidate the historical Inventory of Approved and Projected Programs, conducted from 1997 to 1999. Every college was asked to review and update its listings in light of the new definition of a program as a specific degree or certificate. Colleges' listings were compared to their catalogs. Hundreds of additional entries were added, and many historical entries that represented only categories of coursework, rather than degrees or certificates, were removed.

All approved degree programs are listed. However, California community colleges structure their degree awards very differently one from another. Especially in the liberal arts and sciences disciplines (those oriented heavily toward university transfer), it would be a mistake to think that, because a particular college is not listed as offering a degree in, for example, chemistry or English, that college does not offer a transfer program in chemistry or English. All California community colleges offer a full range of university-level coursework in the natural sciences, mathematics, social sciences, humanities, language arts, and fine arts to ensure high-quality transfer education. But not all community colleges award degrees with the names of specific subject disciplines such as chemistry and English. Many colleges prefer to award degrees with more general names for transfer education, especially such names as "Liberal Arts," "Liberal Studies," "Transfer Studies," or "University Studies." These programs are listed under Taxonomy of Programs code 4901.00.

For certificate programs, only those requiring at least 18 semester units or 27 quarter units are included (except for some low-unit certificates which are listed in conjunction with a degree listing). Certificates requiring fewer than 18 semester units or 27 quarter units are not required to be approved by the Chancellor's Office.

There may be some degrees and certificates offered at some colleges which do not appear on this list, but are in process of approval. A reader who wishes to verify the approval status of a degree or certificate may contact Melanie Schultz-Miller, Curriculum Analyst, Chancellor's Office Curriculum Standards and Instructional Services Unit, at (916) 323-3093, or e-mail to mschultz@ccccco.edu.

Projected programs, which are degrees and certificates that colleges have told the Chancellor's Office they intend to start, are also included in this publication. These programs are distinguished by having a year listed in the "Year Projected" column rather than the "Year Approved" (Year Aprvd) column. They are not authorized to operate until they have been approved.

Apprenticeship-only programs are not included. A reader who wishes to verify the curriculum and/or funding approval status of an apprenticeship program may contact Dr. Barry Noonan, Apprenticeship Coordinator, Chancellor's Office Workforce Preparation Unit, at (916) 445-8026, or e-mail to bnoonan@cccco.edu. A few programs offer both apprenticeship instruction and a non-apprenticeship certificate or degree. Those are included here.

Inactive programs are not included. These are programs temporarily suspended by the college. The Chancellor's Office must be notified before they are re-started.

The Chancellor's Office extends its thanks to all those staff at colleges and district offices whose work to complete the revalidation of the Inventory of Approved and Projected Programs, in cooperation with Chancellor's Office staff, made this publication possible. We will attempt to keep this inventory up to date through the ongoing program approval process and periodic update reviews in the future.

Key to the Column Headings

- T.O.P. Code. The Taxonomy of Programs is a hierarchical system of uniform nomenclature for designating programs in the California Community College system. It is similar in structure to the federal Classification of Instructional Programs, although different in its specific numbering. The complete T.O.P. may be viewed on the Chancellor's Office Web site at www.cccco.edu. An index of programs according to T.O.P. code is provided in the back of this directory.

- Serial Code. This is a sequential letter to distinguish between programs, when there is more than one program in the same T.O.P. code at a college. If one or more letters appear to be missing from a sequence, it may mean that those letters are assigned to inventory entries that are not displayed in this report, such as low-unit certificates, inactive programs, apprenticeships, or "coursework only" entries.

- Local Title. In some cases, the local program title is the same as the T.O.P. title. In other cases, the local title is different, usually more specific. For example, for T.O.P. code 0506.00, the T.O.P. title is "Business Management," but a particular program under this code might be locally titled "Small Business Entrepreneurship." For T.O.P. code 0701.00, the T.O.P. title is "Computer and Information Science, General," but a particular program under this code might be titled "Microcomputer Applications Specialist." Only the local program title is displayed in the report of programs by college. The corresponding T.O.P. title may be found in the index of programs by T.O.P. code in the back of the publication.

- Cert Units. Number of core units and restricted electives required for a certificate. Expressed as semester units for all colleges except DeAnza, Foothill, and Lake Tahoe, whose listings are in quarter units.

- Deg Units. Number of semester or quarter units required for the major (including core units and restricted electives), and any closely associated prerequisites, in a degree program. Excludes general education and open electives. Expressed as semester units for all colleges except DeAnza, Foothill, and Lake Tahoe, whose listings are in quarter units

- Degree Type. In this column, an "A" indicates Associate in Arts, an "S" indicates Associate in Science, and a "B" indicates that both an Associate in Arts and an Associate in Science are available.

- Year Aprvd. This may be either the year of initial Chancellor's Office approval; or, for those programs that were added during the 1997-99 inventory revalidation, it may be the year the program was first approved locally and offered at the college.

- Year Projected. The year a college has told the Chancellor's Office it intends to start a new program. Programs with a date in this column have not yet been approved.
